notary public during the time he has been asuming to act as such, and hence the administration has not only been allowing this illegal fee to be collected, but the man who has been doing it has been collecting money for doing something he had no more right to do than a boot-black on the street. An act of the General Assembly, found on page 335, of the acts of 1891, makes him ineligible to act as a notary.

I understand that this same office is collecting a so-called controller's fee for issuing permits to tap sewers, open streets, etc. Indeed. I have seen some of the permits with this fee charged and receipted on the face of the permit. This is clearly illegal. There is no ordinance or law now in force allowing any such fee. The old ordinance giving the city clerk such a fee as a part of his compensation, was annulled by the very terms of the charter. The controller has no right to charge or collect it, either for himself or the city. Then there is the electric-light matter. The last Republican Council got one hundred electric lights at $60 a year each. Now the city is paying $105 a light, and illegally, too, for no intract has been made, as the charter requires,

This business administration has been making its street improvement contracts without any authority of law. They were stopped by an injunction in the Alvord-street case because they couldn't read and understand plain English. They tried it over and have been stopped again They have made no end of mistakes. They did

Even Mr. Woollen's report does not comply with the charter, not being sworn to before any one authorized to administer oaths. Perrott has not been a notary since March last. He cannot act as notary and deputy controller at the same time. When he qualified as a deputy controller he vacated his office as notary, as before shown Gentlemen, these men now in office do no seem to comprehend anything in the charter. do not believe they have even read it. It is a very plainly-worded law; and yet, it has been grossly violated at least fifteen times in six months by this "business administration." The people and the city treasury are not safe in the hands of this administration. Let us get rid of it as soon as possible, and let the verdiet be of such a character that no more such will ever be attempted to be foisted on the city. Elect William W. Herod Mayor next Tuesday, and, my word for it, no more reckless law-break ing will occur. He is a good lawyer himself, and will see to it that the provisions of the charter are respected. We have had enough or this kind of "business administration." It has been extravagant and imbecile. Every promise of importance has been broken and the people's rights trifled with. We need a change, and, if the signs of the times can be depended on, we will get it next Tuesday. And I predict the verdict will be such a decisive one that the liars and mud-slingers who have opposed Mr. Herod in this fight will remember it for a long time.

I., D. & W. RECEIVERSHIP.

First National Bank,

Judge Brown has set Oct. 16 as the day for hearing the application of Hattie E. Showers and the First National Bank for the appointment of a receiver for the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western road. The claim of the former 1s for $1,500, due on a judgment obtained in court for damages. The bank claims in one instance $1,450, and in another $2,166.67 for rent of an elevator building. The charge is made that the company is insolvent, and has no money to meet its obligations.

John Linehan Set Free. About a month ago John Lineban, of this city. was shot by William Evans, at New Ross, be cause he had taken a ride in Evans's buggy without consent of the owner. Lineban was struck in the eye by the ball, but he soon recovered and went to Indianapolis. He was afterwards arrested and put in jail in this city and then sent to Crawfordsville. The grand jury returned an indictment against him for stealing a horse and buggy. The case was called in the court at Crawfordsville yesterday morning, and his wife and friends went over from Indianapolis to establish his previous good character. It was made plain to the court that Linuchan had always borne a good reputation, and the circumstances connected with his taking the horse pointed to the fact that he was temporarily lusane. The court ordered him released on his own recognizance and they all returned to this city yesterday afternoon.

MR. WOOLLEN WAS ON HAND

He Could Find the Council Chamber When No Liquor Legislation Was Up.

Meeting Suddenly Adjourned to Avoid the Terre Haute Ordinance-Cox Talks Out

in Meeting-Municipal Notes.

There was a special meeting of the Council last night, and William Wesley Woollen was there. No one knows better than the controller-councilman when There is a time for disappearing— Just take a header and down you go

And when the sky above is clearing; When the sky above is clearing Bob up serenely, bob up serenely,
Bob up serenely from below!

The preacher ordinance was not expected to be on hand, and Mr. Woolien was present. So was Emil Rassmann, R. J. Nolan, Martin J. Murphy and J. A. Weber, of the dodging contingent.

Colonel Hicklin was late in arriving, and City Clerk Swift, at 8:20, called the meeting to order. The roll-call showed thirteen councilmen present-just a quorum. On motion of Mr. Rassmann Mr. Murphy was called to the chair. He had hardly got seated before Colonel Hicklin came in, but Mr. Murphy was not dispossessed of the gavel, and presided through the brief session. The call was for the purpose of filling vacancies on election boards, a number of inspectors having declined to serve. The list of those declining embraced the names of Oliver Reveal, seventeenth preeinet; M. D. Youtz, twentieth; Jefferson Caldwell, twenty-second; Charles Resner, sixty-first; Samuel M. Compton, sixtyninth; Timothy Callahan, eighty-second; Daniel W. Thayer, eighty-ninth; P. S. B. Kennedy, ninety-fourth; J. W. Wilson, ninety-third; John Schneider, one-bundredand-sixteenth. It is whispered about that several of these gentlemen declined on the ground that they were not able or willing to do the outside work required by Thomas Taggart. Perhaps some of them also had scruples about some of the "inside" work. The following were appointed in their precinct; John Dennett, twentieth; J. E. McCullough, twenty-second; Aug. Schmidt, sixty-first; James Street, sixty-ninth; Daniel Kirk, eighty-second; Henry Reinken, eighty-ninth; J. E. Lockridge, ninety-fourth; Geo. R. Hutton, ninety-third; Henry Blase, one-hundred-and-sixteenth. The resolution appointing the new lot was adopted unanimously.

Rev. R. V. Hunter, of the preachers' committee, was in the lobby, and on a motion to adjourn Martin Murphy, fearing the Terre Haute ordinance might be brought up, dropped the gavel too quick, and the agony was over.

No Competition with Frenzel. Walter T. Cox, of the Cincinnati street car syndicate, had a session with the Board of Public Works Thursday night in relation to a street-car franchise. A reporter of the Eun, who interviewed Mr.Cox yesterday, quotes him as follows: "Yes, I had a session with the board last night," said he, "or rather with a portion of the board. Mr. Sherrer was not there, because, I suppose, if he had come they would have been forced to do something for me. With one member absent they had room to dodge." "What was your success?"
"Why, I didn't have any. I used every argument, and finally, when that wouldn't do, got mad. I tell you things have come to a pretty pass when a competing company is shut out simply because a corporation like the Citizens Street-railway Company has the administration throttled. I tell you when John P. Frenzel presses the button on Tom Sullivan, the latter rushes to the Board of Public Works and yells: 'For God's sake, don't.'"

"Did you tell the board this?" "No; but I did tell Mr. Conduitt that he was afraid to give me a franchise. I did tell him that I had heard a reputable citizen assert that John P. Frenzel had boasted in plain words that I wouldn't get any franchise that I would accept, and I told Mr. Conduitt that it was a fact, too. I told him, also, that the board was attempting to put it off until after election.' "What did Mr. Conduitt say to that?"

"He said that if I was going to run the thing into politics the transaction would cease then and there. I said that I didn't care, and that I never expected to get anything from the board anyway." Corporations at Outs. A point at issue between the Indianapolis Paving Company, which has the contract for the improvement of College avenue, and Citizens' Street-railway Company, was brought before the Board of Public Works vesterday morning. Mr. Hansen, representing the paving company, informed the board that the streetcar company were pushing contractors for the street improvement and wanted to start their electric cars before the concrete was dry. Major Hansen represented that if the street cars were started before the concrete had thoroughly settled and dried out the result would be a defective street. He stated further that he had had an understanding with Mr. Steele, formerly superintendent of the street-rail road company, that the latter would not push the contractors, and he wanted the board to see that this compact was carried out. The board promised to give the matter its attention. That Drinking Fount Two representatives of the Women's Christian Temperance Union were before the board relative to the Willard drinking fountain. The ladies stated that it had been decided to erect the fountain at the corner of Virginia avenue and Washington street. Therefore, the board ordered that it should be placed on the site of the present fountain in front of the Bank of Commerce building. It is to be erected at the city's expense, and is to be ready for unveiling two weeks from to-day. Power-House Project.

A special meeting of the Commercial Club was held yesterday afternoon to consider matters pertaining to club interests. T. E. Griffith, chairman of the committee on city interests, reported that after a thorough canvass of the question it was deemed impracticable to run a series of excursions in Indianapolis from the adjacent towns during the trading season. It was recommended, however, that an effort be made to secure low fares on all roads centering in the city upon all public occasions. The committee which had the powerhouse matter under consideration reported as to the relations between the powerhouse and the club. After a general discussion of the power-house matter in all its phases Col. Eli Lilly presented the following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved, That we recognize with pleasure the construction of a power-house in Indianapolis for the accommodation of small manufacturers, and that we pledge the assistance of the club in every way to make the enterprise a

The first large reception for October was given yesterday afternoon, by Mrs. Charles W. Smith and daughter, Miss Margaret Smith, at their home on East Pratt street. The house was beautified with plants, flowers, lights and a gathering of about two hundred guests. The friends were greeted by Mrs. and Miss Smith, Mrs. H. P. Wasson, Mrs. Jason Carey, Mrs. W. F. Mason, Mrs. C. E. Coffin, Miss Charlotte Jones, Miss Agnes Duncan and Miss Camilla Walker. The parlor, where they received, was redolent with the perfume of La France roses and spicy carnations. The mante's were filled with palms, crotans and maiden-hair ferns in profusion. In the hall lemonade was served by Misses Ruth Nicholas and Kate Smith, from a bowl surrounded with vines, plants and flowers. In a cosy corner, near the dining-room, was a bower of green a lamp with a pink shade, and roses and vines in profusion, making attractive the coffee table where Miss Ray and Miss Fletcher, of Orlando, Fla., presided. The dining-room was also embellished with green and pink. The table was garlanded with vines and a great bowl of nink garlanded with vines, and a great bowl of pink oses ornamented its center. Carnations were the favors presented in this room, where Mrs. Morrow and Mrs. I. C. Walker extended the hospitalities. The occasion was a delightful re-union of many of the society women, after the long summer and early fall season.

THE LAKE ERIE FIREMEN

Conference Between Chief Sargent and General Manager Bradbury.

Schedule of the Employes' Demands-Written Answer to Be Given To-Day-What It Is Likely to Be.

Dr. and Mrs. Todd entertained a few friends The firemen on the Lake Erie & Western railway have asked for an increase in their pay in the passenger and freight service of that road. Their demands were refused, and their committee, consisting of F. L. Wade, of Peru; L. A. Giebel, of Lafayette, and A. J. Eschenbach, of Lima, O., went to Grand Chief F. P. Sargent, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. Mr. Sargent came here yesterday, and, with the committee, waited upon General Manager Bradbury. A lengthy conference was held in which but little was developed, Mr. Bradbury preferring to submit his decisions in writing to Chief Sargent to-day. The schedule demanded by the firemen is substantially as follows: They demand in passenger service an increase from 1 7/10 cent a mile to 1 9/10. and asked that a one-hundred miles run constitute a day's work, and all over one hundred miles be paid pro rata. Firemen on four-wheeled coupled engines are to receive 2 cents a mile, one hundred miles or less to constitute a day's work. Also, that firemen on all six-wheeled coupled engines are to receive 24/10 cents a mile, one hundred miles or less to constitute a day's work. As it now is the firemen on freight engines, to which the two latter apply, are paid only for the number of miles they run. With passenger engines the only change asked is an increase of two-tenths of a cent a mile. They further demand that firemen on wreckage, circus, picnic or work trains receive $2 a day, five hours or less to constitute a half day's work, over five hours or under ten to be paid for at the rate of twenty cents an hour. Further, that all firemen who are used to get an engine ready to leave the shop, or those who are on helping engines, shall receive $1.80 aday. They demand that the right of all firemen is reserved to deadhead home when enlay away on Sunday, if it gines possible for them Their next important demand is that firemen be not required to clean the brasswork on an engine. Mr. Sargent, in speaking of the matter last night to a Journal reporter, said: "Mr. Bradbury and myself. together with the committee from the Lake Erie & Western firemen, held a conference this afternoon. The schedule was taken up section by section and discussed fully thoughtfully and carefully, and I am to receive his written reply to-morrow. The firemen have asked nothing unreasonable, and, with possibly two or three exceptions, they should all be granted. Mr. Bradbury is inclined to think that the demands do not represent the general sentiment of the firemen on his road. All I can say is let him wait till the matter comes to a vote if he refuses to grant the requests. Our rule is that when the committee fails to secure satisfaction from the company it shall come to me. I then visit the general manager, and if I fail the matter is put to a vote of all the firemen on the road. If two-thirds vote recommending the de-mands, a strike ensues. I don't think there will be any trouble in securing two-thirds or nine-tenths of the Lake Erie & Western firemen in agreeing that the schedule is fair and reasonable in every respect. The wages on this road would be as fair as on other roads if they paid on the basis of one hundred miles per day, but as it is now it is not as much.

Mr. Bradbury said: "I have made up my mind what answer to give them, but it would not do to give it to the public before I give it to the committee and Chief Sargeant. I do not believe that this committee voice the sentiment of the body of men they represent." It is probable, judging from the general manager's remarks, that he will accede to the twotenths of a cent per mile increase, but will not consent to pay for more miles than are actually run.

AMUSEMENTS.

MR. RIDDLE'S READINGS.

There was a large audience at Plymouth Church last night to greet Mr. George Riddle, who last season established himself as a favorite among cultivated Indianapolis people. Mr. Riddle's readings of last year were so appreciated that all who had once heard him were glad to know of his return. and testified to the feeling with their presence. The readings last night were selected from Dickens, the first from "A Tale of Two Cities," the scene between Miss Pross and Madame Defarge, in which Miss Pross and Mr. Cruncher have their parting and meeting, between which the tragedy occurs, and Miss Pross is made deaf. The voices, the scene, the action, are so complete that it seems a living presence of the whole. The second scene was "The Execution of Sidney Carton," from the same story. The gentle little sempstress, who is given courage to undergo calmly the horrible execution, the strong, brave Sidney, so sacrificing and heroic, and the cold, stoical counting of the executioners by the Knitting women, were vividly portrayed. Especially beautiful was the reading of the first part of the burial service, which Sidney utters just before he goes to the guillotine. In great contrast to these was the "Miss Squeers's Tea Party," with Matilda and her beau, John. Miss Squeers and Nicholas Nickleby and the subsequent confusion and quarrel, and "The End of Dortheboy's Hall." When Mr. Squeers is about to punish poor Smyth, who is so bravely defended by Nickleby, the coarse brutality of the one, the half-starved, neglected, downtrodden lad and the noble defender were as diverse as possible, and yet equally well depicted. The finale was the scene between "Mile. Hortense and Mr. Tuikinghorn," the calm, imperturable lawyer and the woman full of hate for "Madame." In all the range of Dickens's there could scarely be any greater contrasts than in the characters chosen. and it is doubtful if in all that audience there was not one who had a finer and better conception of the characters portrayed, after the reading, than had ever been found in all perusal of the books. Mr. Riddle's great versatility is remarkable, and his changes of voice and gesture to suit the characters are so perfect and so instantaneous that they show him not only to be master of himself but of his art. Tuesday evening Mr. Riddle will read "Macbeth," and next Friday will close the series with a programme of miscellaneous selections. THE "HIGH ROLLER." The much harassed-troupe, the "High Roller" company, began a two-nights' engagement at the Grand last night. No play of the season began under fairer auspices or with brighter prospects than this, yet tor some reason it has rolled in a troublous groove, and been surrounded with hard luck from the first. As farce comedies go, it is a very clever performance, and deserves as creditable mention as the average run. Such men as Barney Fagan, John Gilbert and Leon are all clever people in their line, and do as good work in "A High Roller" as they ever did. The songs are new and catchy, the costumes handsome, the girls pretty, the dialogue bright and the plot-such as it is-smooth; so there you have it. The "High Roller" gives a matinee this afternoon and a performance

SUICIDE AT A PICNIC.

Andrew Rutherford, Tired of Life, Puts a Bullet in His Brain.

Andrew M. Rutherford shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon, on the canal, about three-quarters of a mile north of North Indianapolis. He was the guest of a party of campers, composed of George T. Neal, Henry Dorbecker, Theodore Harms and others, who had been fishing since Saturday. The late dinner yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock was enlivened by the presence of the wives of the party and one or two other ladies. Rutherford was called to sit at the rustic table, but had hardly seated himself before he arose and left, saying he did not feel well and had no desire to eat. He retired to the tent, and nothing was thought of his act except that it was due to a temporary indisposition, until the report of a pistol startled the party. Rutherford was found insensible with a ghastly wound in his head made by a 32-caliber bullet. Flanner & Buchanan's ambulance was summoned and Rutherford was taken to the City Hospital. He died there in half an hour, without becoming conscious. The tragic incident threw a gloom over the camp, and the tent was struck and the party returned to their homes in the city. Mr. Neal, who was a warm friend of the dead man, thinks the act was due to despondency, resulting from ill-health. Rutherford was divorced from wife a year or more since, has seemed at times to very disconsolate. He has been heard within the last few weeks to threaten to "blow his brains out." once remarked to the barkeeper in Mr. Neal's saloon, on North Illinois street, when preparing poison for rats, that he believed he would take some of it. He was a butcher by trade, but has not worked much for two years past. He has lived lately with his parents, in the Johnson Block, corner of East and Washington streets.

A Great Country, AND HOW TO REACH IT.

Owing to the great amount of interest shown n the Northwestern States, and especially in Montana and Washington, the Northern Pacific railroad has prepared two folders, entitled "Golden Montana" and "Fruitful Washington, which contain a great many interesting and valnable details in reference to climate, topography, agriculture, stock-raising mining, lumbering government and railroad lands, homesteads and other subjects of interest to the capitalist, business man or settler. These folders can now be obtained on application to the general passenger agent of the road. It should be borne in mind by travelers to the Northwest that, among other things, the Northern Pacific railroad offers the following advantages: It is the direct line to principal points in Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. It has two trains daily to Helena and Butte, Mont., Spokane, Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore. It has complete equipment of Pullman first-class sleeping cars, dining cars, day coaches, Pullman tourist and free colonist sleepers, the cars being new, comfortable and neat. It has through sleepingcar service every day from Chicago, Ill., to Montana and Pacific coast points, of Pullman firstclass and tourist sleeping cars, in connection with the Wisconsin Central line, and vestibuled first-class sleepers via C., M. & St. P. railway. It passes through the grandest scenery of seven states, and the great young cities of the Northwest. The service is complete in every respect the "Yellowstone Park and Dining-car Route" being, in fact, a thoroughly first-class line to

Afflicted Three Years by Dreadful Skin and Blood Disease, With Intense Pain and Loss of Hair,

All Other Remedies Fail, Relieved Instantly and Cured in Four Weeks by the Cuticura Remedies.

I have a few words to say regarding the Cuticura Remedies. They have cured me in four weeks' time from a Skin and Blood Disease which I have had for over three years. At certain times, my skin would be very sore, and always kept cracking and peeling off in white scales. In cold weather my face was one mass of scales. When in the cold air the pain was intense; it would almost bring tears to my eyes, and my blood also being in a poor condition, with a loss of hair. I have tried every known remedy that was recommended to me, but it was of no use, and gave me very little benefit. So hearing of your Cuticura Remedies, I concluded to give them a trial. The first application gave almost instant relief. In a few weeks' time I found myself cured, and I am thankful for what they have done for me. Your Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to those who may have the opportunity to use them. I can recommend them to any one. EDMUND KERAS, 270412 Union ave., Chicago, Ill.

Dyspepsia

Makes many lives miserable, and often leads to self destruction. Distress after eating, sick headache, heartburn, sour stomach, mental depression, etc., are caused by this very common and increasing disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the stomach, creates an appetite, promotes healthy digestion, relieves sick headache, clears the mind, and cures the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia. Read the following:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced. It relieved me of that faint, tired, all-gone feeling. I have felt so much better since I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I am happy to recommend it." G. A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass. N. B. Be sure to get only
